It was the same crity of the spectators within a few yards of the wire it looked as if Zipango had wor eck as he was overhauling Samuel H. Harris with every stride. But the judges, who were to Harris by a nose. There was much grumsing, however, on the part of those who had bet on Zipango on the way to the city.

The wise men were all wrong when Explosion won. They let her go back to 4 to 1. while some of them backed Halket from 3 to 5 to ? favorite. Others heat Sir Cleges from 6 to while there was a smart play on Bellweiher scross the boards. Johnnie Blake, Fred took's good colt, opened at 7 to 2, but went back gradually in the odds until he could have een purchased at 10 to 1 in many of the books. The smart speculators got another tumble when H. P. Whitney's Baby Wolf won the Manhattan Handicap. While there was a beral play on Baby Wolf, he receded from to s. Suffrage opened at 8 to 5, yet, in spite of the fact that Trainer Rowe bet on her, she went up to 3, only to be backed down again to 13 to 5. Jack Atkin was reduced from 4 to to 2, many of the shrewd players keeping off cause Jack Martin had the leg up, but in justice to Martin it must be said that he did is best. He may have made his run too soon with the Sain colt, for he swept into the stretch with a good lead, but all the way to the wire Jack was busy and was only beaten two heads. Dreamer, backed from 7 to 5, was probably best, but little Brussel, when it came to a duel with Dugan, was outridden. George Odom's Oraculum was a tip, and was played from 10 to 8, while there was strong support three ways for Bat Masterson and king's Daughter. Bat Masterson was almost mocked to his knees at the start, which killed his chances beyond a doubt. Roseben won the Manhattan Handicap in both 1905 and 1906, in each instance carrying 147 pounds. In yesterday's race Jack Atkin gave one pound by the scale to Suffrage and Baby Wolf. thirteen to Dreamer, fourteen to King's Daughter, twenty-three to Oraculum and twenty-one to Bat Masterson.

The running of the Dixiana Stakes caused a lot of talk. Mr. Keene's Gretna Green was a red hot favorite at 6 to 5, the public going to him for all kinds of bankrolls. But the smart insiders showed a preference for Kentucky Beau, who was backed from 2 to 8 to 5. The latter was saddled by Thomas Welsh, as Woodford Clay's regular trainer, Brooks, has gone to Kentucky with nearly all of the horses in the stable. It may neen poor racing luck that caused Gretna Green to get away poorly and then run into a series of pockets, but the fact remains that if Miller had got the Keene horse away with the others and had kept him out of difficulties he would probably have won As it was he lost half a dozen lengths be-fore Miller got him straightened out for the run to the wire. Kentudky Beau at that ran his best race of the year, for he stepped the mile in 1:38 4-5, one and two-fifth seco slower than the track record of 1:37 2-5, made by Kiamisha in 1905. Previous winners of the Dixiana at Belmont Park were Dreamer and Hot Toddy. Lad of Langden was one of the entries for yesterday's race and was at the track, while E. Dugan had been engaged to ride, but as he was not officially reported to Paddock Judge Hall, that official ordered him scratched forthwith.

As Bruxton was set down by the starter on Thursday, Frank J. Farrell had to put up ittle McCarthy on Wave Crest in the fifth race. Mr. Farrell did not believe that his colt could beat Chulita, the odds on favorite, so he played Wave Crest for the place only. But others who remembered that Wave Crest when heavily backed the other day was practically knocked down at the start went to the colt, with the result that he was reduced from 5 to 4. McCarthy, who did good work in Canada, put up a superb ride on Wave Crest, while Miller was hooted when he came home second with the favorite. St. Ilario was heavily backed at the last moment, but o ran as if he had became stale from too much racing.

The Sullivan family lost a chance to kill the ring when Paddy Sullivan's old cam-The Sir Walter horse had been going great guns in his work at the track, but when a guns in his work at the track, but when a green apprentice named Kraemer was an-nounced as his rider the Bowery bettors scratched their heads and kept out of the ring until the last moment, when the tip became so strong that a few comparatively small wagers were placed on Harris at 12 to 1. Kraemer knew enough to hug the rail and when more than half the field ran out at the head of the stretch he came on with a great rush from nowhere. Zipango was heavily backed and closed the choice at 3, but there was great backing for old Phil Finch, who was believed to be due and who went to the post at 16 to 5. St. Valentine caught the bulk of the Sullivan support at 4, while the padlock sharps went to Lord Lovat, backed from 6 to 9 to 2. T. E. Mannix reported yesterday the death of his well known race mare Sonoma Belle, who succumbed to an attack of pneumonia on Thursday.

Williams has given the Crimson several lively scraps and always goes against them without being in the least afraid. Williams has a strong line this season and light backs. The team is weak in punting. Gutterson, Brooks and D. Brown, regulars of the line, are not expected to play to-day, but there are good substitutes. Lament of the backfield is a ratifing good man for his weight, a splendid defensy good on a fence there are Williams hopes of a smail total by Harvard and possibly a score by Williams.

Pennsylvania and Swarthmore regard to-day's battle so seriously that both have had secret practice in preparation for it. The advisability of secret practice at any time is questionable, and to hold it so early is surely crowding the season. Regan, the best of the Pennsylvania quarterbacks, who was hurt in Wedpesday's game, has been on crutches since and may not play to-day. Recent practice at Swarthmore has been brisk and encouraging, but there is no great expectation of repeating last year's victory over the Red and Blue. In O Brien Swarthmore has one of the best quarterbacks in the country and one who can drop kick the ball over the crossbar in games as well as in practice. His skill along this line beat Pennsylvania last year. Handicap: for two year olds $1,000 additionings straightaway:

The Navy does not know just what to expect from Vanderbilt. The strength of the Southernors is an unknown quantity in these parts, too. The fact that Vanderbilt beat the Indians last year, however, creates the belief that they are pretty good this year. George Woodruff (Vale) and Tyler (Princeton) will officiate at to-day's game, while the officials for the Harvard-Annapolis game next Saturday will be: Pa Corbin, Vale, referee: Al Sharpe, Yale, umpire, and Gresham Poe. Princeton, field judge.

The Bucknell folks, who tackle Princeton this afternoon, do not think the Tigers will do as well against them as Pennsylvania did, the score of the Pennsylvania-Bucknell contest being 29 to 2. The Princeton coaches would not be displeased to run into a stiffer game than they have had this far. Bucknell came out of the Pennsylvania game in good condition and is fit for a hard fight to-day. She'll have to be fit to hold the Tigers down. Yale adherents are wondering if the Blue will break into the big scoring business to-day against Holy Cross. Yale's biggest total so far is 25, while all of the other big teams have surpassed that figure. The full steam of the Yale scoring machine has not been turned on yet. The Dartmouth-Aggies game looks inviting. Williams and Brown both had their hands full when they collided with the Aggies. Time, 1:38 4-5.

New York University will line up against Stevens at Hoboken this afternoon. The local men expect a close game and will fight hard to win. The improvement over last year's team, which was defeated 8—0, is noticeable. The line is about ten pounds per capita heavier and more aggressive. The men, however, play too high. The backfield is fast and plays together. Rust is running the team at full blast and thinks if nothing else will win the game that speed will. The probable lineup is as follows: Peny, '08, left end: Friedberg, '09, left tackle: McElroy, '11, left guard: Sabin, '08 (Decker, '10, centre: Koar, '10, right guard: Auffant, '09, right tackle: O, Young, '09 (Hayden), right end: H. CAMBRIDGE, Oct. II. Harvard is expecting a hard game to-morrow with Williams, in preparation for which only the highest kind of work was indulged in. To-day the regulars were thoroughly drilled in the different plays which will be used and after a log around the field were sent into the different plays which will be used and after a log around again. The third and fourth teams then had a short scrimmage Harvard's linear formerrow will be almost the same as on Wednesday against Bates. Bird and Forster, ends. Burr and Fish, tackles. Parker and Peirce, guards Grant, centre. Newhall, quarterback. Lockwood and Rand, half-backs. Bretner, fullback. Forster and Fish did not start the Bates game and will be in the first linear to-morrow. The coaches are desirous of trying Fish out against fresh opponents. Hitherto he has always gomento a game as a substitute for float or Burr and has been up against tired men. His work will be watched carefully to-morrow and if he makes good there is scrarcely any doubt that he will be Burr's running mate for the rest of the season. The officials assigned by the central board for the Harvard-Williams game are. Referee, Whiting of Cornell, unpire, Edwards of Princeton field uniter.

PHILADRIPHIA, Oct. 11. Both Pennsylvania and Swarthmore are making extra preparations for the match to-morrow. Pennsylvania is somewhat handicapped by having its best quarterback injured. Reagan, who was hurt in the game on Wednesday, may not be able to piay at all, although Coach Torrey expects to start him in the game. In the event of his not playing Miller will start at quarter. Draper is suffering from a slight wrench of the side, which kept him from taking an active part in the practice to-day. Rooke and Gaston will be the tackles if Draper does not start the game. Gallagher and Ziegler will be guards, while Dwyer will face Coble. Swarthmore's powerful centre. If Miller is forced to play quarter the ends will be Scarlett and Braddock, while Folwell and Greene will be halfbacks, with Bill Hollenback at the fullback position. The practice to-day consisted mostly of quick signal drills and falling on the ball. Trick plays and forward passes were all rehearsed.

Lewisburg, Pa., Oct. 11. The Buckne II eleven leaves to-day for Princeton, where it is to meet the strong Orange and Black team to-morrow. The local team is in better condition than when it met the University of Pennsylvania team in Philadelphia last week, as that game served to reveal a number of its weak points, which have been largely eradicated. Two former Buckneil football captains have been here all week assisting Coach Costello in the coaching of the men. Lenhart, who made the first score of the season against Princeton last fall by kicking a field goal, will again play fullback. Groff, who repeatedly shoved Ziegler back in last Saturday's game on Franklin Field, will again be in his position as left guard. The two freshmen finds, Kauffman and McAllister, will play in the back field also.

two freshmen finds, Kauffman and McAllister, will play in the back field also.

New Haven, Oct. 11.—On Yale Field this afternoon there was a fierce half hour of battling between the varsity and college elevens which ended with each side having scored one touchdown by sensational playing and the removal of Burke from the field in an unconscious condition. For the second team Philbin, the fullback, intercepted a forward pass on his own ten yard line as the varsity was about to score, and unaided ran eighty yards for a touchdown. In desperation the varsity, when driven back to their own fifteen yard line, tried a triple pass. Tad Jones, playing quarter, passed to Bomar, who ran fifteen yard with the ball and gave it to Coy, who made a brilliant thirty yard dash. Tackled, he passed to Tad Jones, who scored. Coy, who was playing fullback on the first team, made two other pretty runs and punted strongly. Burke, who succeeded Philbin on the college team, tried to stop one of Coy's cannonball plunges and was struck in the stomach by the runner's head. Burke was knocked unconscious and was carried from the field. Thornton of the second team yesterday received a bad cut on the head which will keep him out of the game for a week, although at the time it was not regarded as serious.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 11.—The Navy foot-

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 11.—The Navy football practice this afternoon consisted entirely of signal work and lineup formations to protect the kicker in attempts at goals from the field. Magruder, the husky right tackle, will not be able to play against Vanderbilt tomorrow on account of a sprained arm and Anderson, a new man, will go in for the place. Another change will be at fullback, where R. E. Jones has been showing up well and will displace Richardson at the start. Clay will get first chance at right half over Spencer, but otherwise the team will be as it has been playing regularly, Capt. Douglass will be at left half and Lange at quarter, Demott and Dague will play the ends; Northeroft left tackle; Wright and Stuart at the guard and Slingluff at centre.

FOX HUNTERS OUT ALL DAY. All Age and Derby Classes Provide Good

Sport in Field Trials. Workester, Oct. 11 .- The Brunswick Fox Hound Club's field trials, which have been in progress here all the week, continued to-day with the running of both the All Age Stake and the Derby class. The judges and the hunters were anxious to wind the trials up to-night if possible. To-day's running lasted well into the afternoon in an attempt to see well into the afternoon in an attempt to see enough work of the hounds to announce the winners in both classes. As a result of yesterday's running of the All Age Stake all but thirty-six of the pack were declared out, and these hounds were taken out his morning and unleashed before three of the judges near the Hancock Farm, where the successful hunt was started yesterday. The other two judges took the fifteen Derby hounds out lifto the reservoir district. Conditions continued ideal for hunting.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 11.—Football practice at Lafayette for the last two days has been devoted chiefly to signal work. Some of the men have been laid up by hard work and Coach Bull has been easing up somewhat in consequence. The playing of the old men has hardly been up to the mark, Logan and Rogers, the big guards, being inclined to take things easy and Chalmers not showing up in his usual form. CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—National Champion Miss Harriot S. Curtis and her sister, Miss Margaret Curtis, both of the Essex County Cub of Boston, will contest to-morrow for the woman's national soft championship of 1907 at the Midiothian Country Club. One of the hardest struggles of the year is looked for in the final eighteen hole match. It is expected that the contest will be a spectacular one because of the prominence of the long game played by each of the Easterners. In the semi-final to-day Miss Margaret Curtis defeated Miss M. W. Phelps, 6 up and 4 to play, while the champion was declared victor over Miss Anita Phipps of Springfield, Mass., by 4 up and 3 to play. The long game and hard smashing drives of both players brought them victories during the contest on the second nine holes. The cards:

Indications at the Staten Island championship yesterday were than John M. Ward would annex the ittle for the fourth year, for he won his matches from Allen and Janin cleverly at the Richmond County Country Club. The latter was the first to hold the title in years agone, when Col. Branch offered his medal to start the competition. Ward had an 33 in his first and 79 in the afternoon match. Thomas was the hope of the Richmond county members and they were grieved over his downfall to Lawson. The final for the championship and minor cups will be played to-day. The summaries:

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Four Washingtonians survived the match play in the first sixteen of the second day's play at the Columbia Golf Club's fall tournament. A. S. Mattingly and L. L. Harban of the Columbia and George Lafferty and O. Horstman of the Chevy Chase cub will play off the semi-finals to-morrow morning, and the final for the governors' cup will be played in the afternoon. Mattingly's defeat of E. B. Eynon in the morning round came as a surprise. L. L. Harban played a consistent game in his match with Dalzeli to-day and it will take hard work to eliminate him. The scores:

Kudlich, with a handicap of 1 minute and 30 seconds, won the race. Fred Rodgers of the New York A. C. ran with the men and finished first, closely followed by B. Sanders, who was running from scratch. The course started in the Columbia grove, ran through 120th street to Riverside Drive, thence down the drive to Ninety-sixth street and returned to the starting point by the same route. The distance was about three miles, but the best time, 19 minutes 26 seconds, made by Sanders, was rather slow.

LEXINGTON, Ky. Oct. 11.—The classic Transylvania here to-day was won by the racing queen of the present trotting season, the California bred mare Sonoma Girl. The famous mare was an odds on favorite in the betting, but so often has this famous race gone to an outsider that the backers of the field numbered hundreds. On this occasion hey took long chances, as the celebrated mare never gave her followers any uneasiness, winning each heat. In the last heat she trotted, save one, the fastest third heat in the history of the race. Her time to-day was 2:05%, while Sweet Marie went a third heat in 205. Horsemen rate Sonoma Girl's third heat to-day superior to Sweet Marie's performance, as a stiff wind blowing up and down the stretches made the going all against fast time. This is the second time and in succession that horses owned by Miss Crab-tree, the retired actress, have won the Tran-sylvania. She captured the race last year with her gelding Nut Boy.

The pacing Fufurity was easy for Shakespeare. He was always favorite over the field man. The 2:20 trot went over until to-morrow after four different horses had each won hears. Though the weather was cool, thousands passed into the grounds to see the Transylvania decided.

A touch of sentiment which was unusual occurred after the Transylvania. Lotta, seated in a floral horseshoe, was carried across the track and she presented the design to McHenry. Miss Crabtree had suffered a sprained ankle and had to be carried across the track. The summaries:

MISS WAGNER'S FAST TENNIS. Hamilton Grange Player Wins Essex County Final and Shows Stamina.

Miss Marie Wagner captured the trophy yesterday in the final of the lawn tennis singles of the Essex County Country Club at Orange, N. J. The conditions of hard and true playing surface were greatly to the liking of the young Hamilton Grange player. She met the long low bounds of Miss Wildey's drives squarely and sent the ball zipping through the court in a way that frequently left her opponent without the chance of making a fair return. It was a splendid exhibition of women's tennis, especially as Miss Wagner had previously engaged the Orange expert, Miss Eleanor Souther, in a long and trying three set match. Her score against Miss Wildey was 6-2 and 6-3, while her semi-final against Miss Souther was 6-3, her semi-final against Miss Souther was 6-3, 2-6 and 6-1.

Paired with Mrs. William H. Pouch, the former natoinal champion, Miss Wagner also won her place in the final of the women's doubles. In accomplishing this feat the young girl contested altogether in seventy-five games and nine sets. Miss Wagner won her matches without showing undue signs of fatigue. The summary:

There are as yet no signs of any extended application of denatured alcohol as an automobile fuel, though the tax free alcohol law has now been in effect for over nine months and the hopes of the alcohol enthusiasts have therefore not yet been realized, says the Horseless Age. The Government experiments on the use of alcohol in automobile engines throw some light on the situation. It is generally known that our present gasolene engines, though they can be operated on alcohol, are neither as economical nor as powerful as if they were specially adapted to the use of this fuel. Motorists who might wish to use alcohol could either use it in their engines as they are or could have their engines partly rebuilt so as to operate at greater compression, thus insuring greater economy and higher power when operated on alcohol.

The tests reported were made on automobile gasolene engines without any changes, and show therefore what may be expected from alcohol under these conditions. The

The tests reported were made on automobile gasolene engines without any changes, and show therefore what may be expected from alcohol under these conditions. The engines developed about the same maximum horse-power with alcohol as with gasolene, but to do this they consumed almost twice as much alcohol as gasolene by weight. Previous German tests have shown that the consumption per horse-power of alcohol and gasolene under the most favorable conditions for each are in the approximate ratio of 54. The very much poorer showing of alcohol in these automobile engines must be due partly to the insufficient compression of these engines and partly to incomplete vaporization of the alcohol in the carburetors. With the present prices of alcohol and gasolene, automobile owners have little inducement to substitute the former fuel for the latter. The present price of denatured alcohol in New York city is 37 cents per gallon in barrel lois and 47 cents per gallon retail, so that alcohol would prove about four times as expensive per horse-power hour if burned in an ordinary gasolene engine and about three times as expensive if burned in a specially designed alcohol engine. The amendment, to the tax free alcohol law which some of the customs restrictions regarding the production of this fuel were removed, has not so far had the effect of lowering the retail price.

There is little doubt that denatured alcohol will come down in price and that gasolene will rise, so that the chances of alcohol will improve in the course of time; but it will probably be quite a number of years before alcohol becomes commercially equal to gasolene as a motor fuel. Meanwhile the removal of the price of alcohol to about one-fourth its former value will most likely quickly extend its use as a non-freezing, cooling liquid. An alcohol solution will now be as cheap to use as any of the several well known anti-freezing liquids and superfor to the others in some respects.

The Motor Union of Great Britain has decided to assist its members in disposing of their used cars, and to this end has accepted an offer from the owner of a carriage bazaar to place the establishment at the disposal of the union during the last week of October, shortly before the opening of the Olympia show. It is announced that cars can be placed for sale by private agreement during the week mentioned and one or two days will be set apart for a public auction. No fee or commission will be payable in respect to the storage, sale or interchange of cars.

Since it became known that the Post Office Department was contemplating the adoption of automobiles in the mail service, one Kansas editor has risen to inquire if persons who are run over by Government mail automobiles will be arrested for interfering with the United States mail.

STOCKROLM, Oct. 11.—At a meeting to-day of the Royal Swedish Yacht Club the question of challenging for the America's oup was lengthly debated. General regret was expressed that the New York Yacht Club had not given a definite answer as to whether it would agree to a 70 foot challenger. It was resolved to take no further action until this point was cleared up.
